Use one nursery rhyme a week to teach the concepts of rhyming, word families and new vocabulary. We will explore a series of nursery rhymes and teaching activities for each nursery rhyme (these are all available at the end of this article.) We cover Use the ReadWriteThink interactive site for students to practice word family sorts. Have the students print their word family charts and evaluate for accuracy. Print the rhyming words for each nursery rhyme on index cards and have the students match the rhyming words.